

FILE APPROVAL AND RELEASE

Every effort has been made to ensure the quality and correctness of the referenced files, but final responsibility for the content and correctness of the work lies with you, the client. You are urged to carefully check the files, and to request and approve a contract proof from the firm that will print or publish these files.

I, the undersigned, approve the release of the file or files included in

Job description

I understand that the files are presented to me AS IS, and that no guarantee, express or implied, is made concerning their fitness for any particular use. I agree to hold Reno Type and its agents free of any liability arising from my decision to print or publish work which includes these files.
